I see the sun go down on the river
I feel the wind blow out and it stayed gray
I feel the air around you its kinda closing in
Do you feel it fall? Or do you feel at all?
I can...

I see the world keep moving as I stumble
They seem to move much faster than me
And while I sit in my four cornered room
Dividing hearts for a little girl
When I can't be anything but who I am

And I wish you'd stay
Oh That was the beginning of the two of us
The start of our show
Stay stay stay
No I would never have let go

And I see the sun go up as your image...
Then I feel the weight of your eyes as you stare...
I feel it all when you, when you first,
When you kissed my lips
You used to make me feel at home
You made me feel it whole
You made me feel again

Oh That's when you used to say
"Will you stay and not let go"
That was just the two of us to think about
The stars of our show
And you would say, "I wish you'd stay"

And I'd never go
Oh I would never have let go

So take this heart of mine
You've taken it a hundred thousand times
But this time, this time I'm gonna take it with me

I See the door close down behind you
I watch your face turn from glow to straight gray
I See the moon go up

And it shines this glory on my face
Who would've known? Who would know?
Who would've known?

Oh, We would stay
And We should stay and never go (Oh No)
There's just three of us to think about now
And our show, our show, our show
And I think we'd stay, we'd just stay
And then we'd know
That we should never have let go

Oh, oh something to think about, home and her heart
Just look into those big brown eyes
And you'd just fall apart
Oh Maybe we'd just stay
At least we'd stay
At least she'd know
That we should never have let go

I wished you'd stayed
I wished you'd stayed
