As the waves crash against me
Seems soaring to land ho
There is no love here
It was swept away
But when I knew it
Lingered long
But under these waves even now they pummel me
Like a catastrophe thrown in typhoon swell
White squall give it to me your all
And then it's helter-skelter
And left behind I'm a floating pinion in this bedevilment
Can't even hide
My arms are tied
My body leaches this way and that
I can not even float right
Sinking is my empty
Sinking is my plight
Here we go again
My arms collect the fluids of neglect
The plan to cull
The can't-tackle
The shiva we don't need
Raining waters
Wind biting as wile
I'm caught in the murky drift_
Is there still a chance to learn how to swim
But when I knew the course to take
Problems last a lifetime, then we know
Lengths of time are what we hold and let go
We made up time
It's our concept
And in the winds are awesome swept
