Well I take my time
Never notice changes anyway
But lately I've been waking up to
All that we've done, change that has come
There's just no escaping the damage we do

But we get along
Going through our paces in the world
And maybe I could always be fooled
But you brought me here, you're making it clear
You're taking the veil I look through

Love never lies
Love never sneaks around at night
Love won't turn its back on you when you turn out the light
Love won't ever walk away carelessly
That's the way that love is, darling
Not the way it is for you and me

Well I'm coming down hard
And I just can't stop myself
And no matter what I pretend
Or which scene I choose it's just no use
We're already reaching the end

'Cause love never lies
Love never sneaks around at night
Love won't lie there silently when you turn out the light
Love won't turn its cruel hand on you senselessly
That's the way that love is, darling
Oh that's the way that love is, darling
Not the way it is for you and me
