Blue Rodeo
"Trust Yourself"

Someday soon
I don't know when
Your little world
Will come crashing in
I'll be around
Don't think twice
Turn your back
Nobody led you on
You know that it's true
Someone's gonna let you down
They left that to you
Now you'll be alone
With your tattered little dreams
When the sun comes up
And a broken cup
Then you'll have to
Trust yourself
And don't believe in anymore lies

Think too much
You waste your time
Of the things you touch
Really make a mess
Poor little bird
With a broken wing
Better look around now
You know you're losing everything
It's just a game
Thought you had it all lined up
Now you'll have to run
But somehow that's changed
And not get caught
And you'll have to hide
If you like it or not
Then you'll have to
Trust yourself
And don't believe in anymore lies

Someday soon
And it won't be long
You'll ring the bell
But they'll all be gone

They took your jewels
And your statues too
Left you with a pile of things
You never learned how to use
You showed us where it all began
Here it comes again
And you'll be alone
When the sun comes up
Well here's where it ends
Tattered little dreams
And a broken cup
And don't believe in anymore
Then you'll have to trust yourself
Trust yourself
And don't believe in anymore liesAnd don't believe in anymore
Trust yourself
