Hey girl, don't come to me and ask me for a helpin'
hand

'Cause by the way things seems to be, I would never ever understand

'Cause when he comes to you, you always take him back

Hey girl, just wait and see, you're bound to have a heart attack

'Cause whenever you meet
It always turns out the same
Baby, you're treated bad again
Treated bad again

Hey girl, why can't you learn that changes can be made 'Cause when he comes to you, you got to turn and move the other way

Go out, hit the town, try to look for something new Go out, mess around, understand what you are going through, through

'Cause whenever you meet
It always turns out the same
You're treated bad again, you're treated bad again Treated bad again, treated bad again

So many nights, my thoughts bring me to you I've seen him come and go And so many years, you don't know I've been watching you
But baby, baby, would something change if you knew?

Hey girl, don't come to me and ask me for a helpin'

'Cause by the way things seems to be, I would never
ever understand

When he comes to you, you always take him back

Hey girl, just wait and see, you're bound to have a
heart attack

'Cause whenever you meet
It always turns out the same

You're treated, you're treated bad again Treated bad again, you're treated bad again, yeah
Treated bad again
