It's a question that drives us
to where we must go It's the unknown that drives from us
what we want most
But the firefly sits in the corner in rest

And he won't care of you stare but believe me, it's best to let go Don't just go with the flow

And the firefly comes to you sits on your finger

It shatters and shakes but she wants you to go with her now Follow her, out there, hmâ€!

The firefly is spreading her wings open wide thinks the sky will come crashing down, fall to her side She's afraid, but her fear's only fair

So fly with the firefly Fly side by side
Escaping the chains that held you from life
Don't look down
You're over the edge

Jump, take a leap of faith
Jump, take a leap of faith

It's a question that drives us
to where we must go

It's the unknown that drives from us
what we want most
but the firefly sits in the corner in rest

It's a question that drives us
to where we must go
It's the unknown that drives from us
what we want most

Don't just go with the flow
But the firefly sits in the corner in rest

It's a question that drives us
to where we must go
It's the unknown that drives from us
what we want most
but the firefly sits in the corner in rest

It's a question that drives us
to where we must go
It's the unknown that drives from us
what we want most

Don't just go with the flow
But the firefly sits in the corner in rest
