If I could find a way
To soothe your troubled mind
Then I would erase your fears
And help you to unwind

I would ease the burden
That you carry everyday
Oh, don't you know I'd find a cure
And take your pain away

Take your pain away
Take your pain away
Take your pain away
Take your pain away

And even though you're far from here
Don't forget I'm always near Find comfort in these words I send
This cold world

Take your pain away
Take your pain away
Take your pain away
Take your pain away

For every aching heart
For every broken soul
For every aching heart
For every broken soul

So give up your worries
They'll only do you harm
There is no need to be concerned
It's just a false alarm

Take your pain away
Take your pain away
Take your pain away, baby
Take your pain away, ooo

Take your pain away, my baby
Take your pain away, ooo baby

Ooo, can I take your pain away?
Take your pain away, oh baby

Take your pain away, ooo yeah
Take your pain away, my baby
Ooo ooo, take your pain away
Why don't you take your?
