This is the house, this is the hill
This is the story it's a little thing
A lock of hair, an invisible smoke trail
This is your shadow
Everything changes

This is your picture, it's in black and white
This is the family having a party
There's a crack in the ceiling and there's an open door
Nothing there but the dust and the rust
Everything changes

Gone, gone, gone, gone
Gone, gone, gone, gone

This is the house, this is the hill
This is the story it's a little thing
A lock of hair, an invisible smoke trail
Nothing there but the dust and the rust
Everything changes
