When you called me on the phone last night I said that I was tired I hung up and went back into my dreams You heard I wasn't sleepy but it's easier to lie when the truth is it doesn't matter what you feel I didn't know your love was so deep you never told me when I needed you so desperately but if I say okey come on I know you run and hide I know you would It's so easy to forget when you're with others
'cause you're busy all the time with showing you're okey But when I meet you accidentally you say my love can we talk I know I never will forget the pain
