

Eva Dahlgren

"Nothing Left Unbound"

Visit "Nothing Left Unbound" on MotoLyrics.com

I was petrified
by a creature
in human disguise
He shined
like a silvermoon
in that dark awesome night
He was man and woman
so in his clothes
he looked a bit dull
But I call him Mr
'cause his hands seemed so strong and I'm what do you call it an oldfashioned girl
And then he showed me his handcuffs it nearly killed me and when he talked
he really thrilled me
he said my friend
release me and I open up your eyes I hesitated for a second and he was out of sight
oh Mr Honesty
I want
I want you
I want you because I want you because I'm too selfdestructive
I need you
I need you because because I want to feel I'm someone I always thought that my truth was your truth and your dream was mine but we've handcuffed reality so there's no dream, no dream left unbound

Visit Eva Dahlgren page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

