

Evan & Jaron "Nature Co."

Visit "Nature Co." on MotoLyrics.com

If nature sold herself on layaway
With a little down
I would be the first in line
To buy myself a sound
A waterfall a tidal wave or a beating of the drums
A heavy wind a thunder or a falling of the leaves
And I would proclaim
I'm the new proprietor of a sound
In a press conference held
Downtown
When the people would look at me
In this state I would simply tell them this
At least you'll have someone to blame for Ruining your weekend
I would play mother nature
Unleash my sound at will
No more sitting and waiting
On this quite window sill
If I feel like love
I will shake the trees
If I'm consumed in loneliness then
I will drop the leaves
And I would proclaim
I'm the new proprietor of a sound
In a press conference held
Downtown
When the people would look at me
In this state I would
Simply say outright
At least you have someone
To blame for scaring
The children in the night
What if I call for a waterfall
Some light rain
And some other owner calls
For a massive hurricane
We'd have to be responsible users
And respect the rules of God
I'll just take a load off and
Have to buy them all
And I would proclaim
I'm the new proprietor of a sound

In a press conference held
Downtown
When the people would look at me
In this state I would
Simply say
At least you have someone
To blame for a near perfect day

Visit Evan & Jaron page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.