I plan to take every moment that you are
And hang them on the wall
I can't explain what you did to me
But I can frame it all
And when I say goodnight
Ill find you there
Starring at me with those eyes
And walking me to the bedroom
And ohhh,
I wish I could see you back
I hope you're fine wherever you are
And know that I think about you all the time
I, I smile through the blue for you
Even though its hard to stay awake some days
And baby I smile sometimes through the blue for you
Even though I know you're a million miles away
I had to leave work again early today
Everyone thinks I'm lazy
I had to be home when you go there
I must be going crazy
And when I say goodnight
Ill find you there
Starring at me with those eyes
And walking me to the bedroom
And ohhh,
I wish I could see you back
I hope you're fine wherever you are
That youre with me all the time
I, I smile through the blue for you
Even though its hard to stay awake some days
And baby I smile sometimes through the blue for you
Even though I know you're a million miles away
Sometimes I wake up to the sweet sounds of the earth
I wonder, is that you
Sometimes in the morning when I order my coffee
I order one for you
(guitar solo)
Babby I, I smile through the blue for you
Even though its hard to stay awake some days
Baby I smile through the blue for you
Even though I know you're a million miles away
And Ill never understand why you went away...
