There are a million things you'll never get to do
You had your way before and where'd it get you to?
Waking up on the floor and sleeping in your shoes
Already too much change in the reflecting pool

Whatever part of you
That's been calling the shots is fired
Whatever part of you
That's been calling the shots is fired

There are a million things you'll never get to do
You had your way before and where'd it get you to?
Waking up on the floor, you're sleeping in your shoes
Already too much change in the reflecting pool

Whatever part of you
That's been calling the shots is fired
Whatever part of you
That's been calling the shots is fired
