Its so cold outside
I see ghost around me
For some reason, people are running
I can't believe my eyes, i see the sky vanishing i can't take this all in
And i can't, i just can't win

The sky is vanishing right before my eyes
People are running, fearing for their life
I know my life will end tonight
All for the vanishing sky

i don't know what to do, do i hide or die?
I don't know where to find a light through the sky
i can't believe this is happening to me
I guess tonights the night that i will die

The sky is vanishing right before my eyes
People are running, fearing for their life
I know my life will end tonight
All for the vanishing sky

This pain is to much for me
The winds have to much velocity
Todays the day of reckoning
Todays the day to say goodbye

The sky is vanishing right before my eyes
People are running, fearing for their life
I know my life will end tonight
But i will stand up and fight
All for the vanishing sky
