Hey listen 'cause I'll only say this once
Do you think that you could lose yourself in me?
I could say
I want to die by your side one day

But I could never speak the words
Because I haven't wrote the words that mean enough to me
So together we can burn this way
Burn this way

Stop and say you love me, always
I'll say the same to you

I found a loop hole for us now
It's called redemption of my history
Do you think, you could look past my fears?
Tell me now my love

Because I will lose it in your eyes
I see firelight in your eyes
I know that things will be better
When you are by my side, by my side

Stop and say you love me, always
I'll say the same to you
Stop and say you love me, always
I'll say the same to you

I'm guarded, I'm fragile
But if anyone could ever
Save me now, you can
And you can

Stop and say you love me, always
I'll say the same to you
Stop and say you love me, always
I'll say the same to you

Are you strong enough?
Am I enough?
Are you strong enough

To say you love me?
