Yeah, yeah

Your eyes shine bright like a Jesus nitelite
I'd like to touch your positive vibes
Indifferent eyes won't give me the time
May I help put aside your moral fiber

You're dressed in white, my face is white
I'd like to be a colorful sight to see

I'm only here in a background
Here on the ground lies my head
I sleep and then I wake
Make sounds and go to bed and wake again

The time is right but I feel all wrong
It wastes away until it's gone
The time is right but I feel all wrong
It fades away and now you're gone

Yeah, my time is right but still I feel all wrong
It wastes away and now you're gone

You're walking by, I'm standing by
Behind the light, I'm standing by
By and by

The time is right but I feel all wrong
It wastes away until it's gone
Your time is right but I feel all wrong
It fades away and now you're gone

Yeah, my time is right but still I feel all wrong
It wastes away until it's gone
And now it's gone, here we go

Yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah
