Push the tears behind you
Don't let anyone inside chase the pain away
You're the only one who is alone now
An empty glass but filled with confidence

As another hero dies from last nights tears
It's time to remember
As another hero dies from last nights tears
It's time to remember

Chase this pain from moments like this one
Make everything so clear
Yesterday don't care it stays the same today
Until you face tommorrow
From last nights tears

From last nights tears [x2]
SAVE ME
From moments like this one
From moments like this one
From moments like this one

You make stronger
Stronger than I've ever been before

Stronger [x2]
Stronger than I've ever been before

He's so tired
He's on his knees
He's so tired
A better man he pleas
To be...

As another hero dies from last nights tears
It's time to remember
You tried so hard not to pull me down
It's a battle to remember

Lost to the drink
