

Ever Stays Red

"November Regrets"

Just because i said goodbye
Didn't mean that i wanted you to walk away
And now without a reason why
I awake and find another day
My heart is bleeding in your hands
I hope it stains in your mind
And everynight the moon may come up
But now my stars stay behind
Words burned into my memory
Those locks i can never change
I'm all stocked up on hopelessness
But despair i think i can arrange
Concentration
Declaration
Anything of my love
Explanation
Conversation
On the wings of a dying dove
Just because i said "i love you"
Didn't mean that i wanted you to stay
And just because you said i was priceless
Doesn't mean that you were willing to pay
