Right now day one I fall hard when I fall I always fall on you Face first head down eyes closed arms out to break my fall we fall Down
Like a world of noise we get lost inside the length of our own time
And the laughing world will never forget that it's when you jam that I
Jet
I see I want I reach I fail to hold the things that I need
I turn out reach for you I want to touch our life before it fades like a burning car in the sun
We flame for the all in plain view
And the laughing world will never forget that it's when you jam that I
Jet
The laughing world will never forget
The laughing world will never forget
