I walk this road alone And always, I wish that you could see. That I am afraid of being who I am. I don't want to disappoint you.

It's clear now we can get along. You've felt like me before, ignored And every word is wrong.

I know who I'm supposed to be. It's never been that easy to be someone like me. I feel there's nothing we should hide We're full of love and understanding, beautiful inside.

I'm holding on and I am brave As it gets easier to breathe. I can face today. Where no one's left behind and no one's left for wanting.

It's clear now we can get along. You've felt like me before, ignored And every word is wrong.

I know who I'm supposed to be. It's never been that easy to be someone like me. I feel there's nothing we should hide. We're full of love and understanding, beautiful inside.

And I know how you hold your feelings. And I know you. I know we can believe.

It's clear now we can get along. You've felt like me before, ignored And every word is wrong.

I know who I'm supposed to be. It's never been that easy to be someone like me. I feel there's nothing we should hide We're full of love and understanding, beautiful inside.
