Yeah right

One, two, three, four

Break down, shake for me

Nothin' ever is the way you want it to be

Nothin' even tastes right

Now that it's over

Break down, shake for me

Don't write words unless you want me to read them

Nothin' really matters

Now that it's over

Maybe we can be friends

Now that we're older

We can have fun like we did in the early days

Now that it's over

Yeah right, break down, shake for me

Nothin' ever seems the way it ought to be

Nothin' ever seems right

Now that it's over

Yeah, now maybe we can be friends

Maybe we can be closer

We can have fun like we did in the old days

Now that it's over

Oh yeah

My bad dreams just don't seem the same

Baby without you

Oh, I wish you were willin' to accept the blame

Yeah, for everything you do

My nightmares just don't scare me now

Baby without you, yeah, yeah

I wish that I could find the words to tell

In the best way possible, you and your friends to go to hell

Yeah right

Whoa, breakup time is never easy to do
Nothin' ever ends the way you want it to Nothin' seems to make sense
Now that it's over

Yeah, now maybe we can be friends
Yeah, now that you're leaving
You can be nice to me
Maybe I'm dreaming

I am a lot better now than just okay
Maybe I am just wakin' up in my own way
Now that it's over
Now that it's over

My bad dreams just don't seem the same
Baby without you
I wish you were willing to accept the blame
Yeah, for all the shitty things you do

Nightmares just don't scare me now
Baby without you
Oh, I wish that I could find the words to tell
You to politely go fuck yourself

Yeah, now that it's over
Now that it's over
Now that it's over
Now that it's over
