So take a look around and see all the different colors
But don't make a sound or he might just take advantage
Such a pretty gown but he took it off already No you can not lie no you can not to a liar

Uh oh Uh oh you didn't think just cause you tip toed tip toed
Didn't mean I wouldn't catch you though catch you though
And now we're face to face and now we're face to face
As your heart trembles inside
Don't you feel grand?

And now I'm faced with this dilemma
Oh yeah
But I got another question I got another question for you

The sounds of making love but your not just quite like lovers

Such a pretty gown oh wait it's off already No you can not lie no you can not lie When all you know is false colors and all you see is light

Today the sun came up with frowns
No I wont hold your hand
If he's the reason why i die would you just let him go
But now I'm faced with this dilemma
Oh yeah
But I've got another question I've got another question for you

I'm leaving town now baby but before I go Theres a little little something that I want you to know You'll never be happy you'll never be happy without me
With out me...with out me...
