All the world is but a child screaming over all your words No one hears your pain they're way too busy for concern (oh) and the days become weeks and the months turn into years you gotta know by now that only God sees all those tears (oh)
(chorus)
When you cry cause it hurts
it doesnt mean that you're not heard because aloud in heaven angels cry with you (oh) when you shout about the way you feel and the signs and lights that dont reveal the true beginning of the end you can make a line from here to mars of those with broken dreams and scars there will never be a fix outside a Savior (chorus)

when you cry cause it hurts

because aloud in heaven angels cry with you (yeah oh) who can say they haven't know of hate or desire to retaliate there must be someone someone we can blame oh but its hard to put the anger down and hear from God without a sound and find a place to heal the unforgiveness when you break and you yell and there's no one left to tell you have the ears of heaven and His grace will come to you (come to you) (chorus)

when you cry cause it hurts
because aloud in heaven the angels cry with you
