I believe what you say
I believe what you do
I believe what you do is for the good of everyone

I didn't think I could change
I thought I'd always stay the same
I'm wide awake on the train back to you
The only one

It's the same everyday now, moving on
And though I don't know the way now, I walk on

I've found a new way to feel
I've got an old wound to heal
Now I wake on the ground
And hear the sound of everyone

Somebody please, won't you show me the way?

And though I don't know the way now, I walk on
It's the same everyday now

Moving on
