"My Own Way"

Looking for a reason
Not to say goodbye
Everything is lasting
For a while

So you try manipulation
When the truth wont get you there
So you think in speculation
What you did was almost fair

Now I'm walking my own way
Been this way before
Now I'm leading my own life
Opened up the door
Time is waiting you know that, well, I know you wanted more

Looking for direction
Always thought I knew the way
It was never my intention
Never thought I'd have to say

Now I'm walking my own way
Been this way before
Now I'm leading my own life
Opened up the door
Time is waiting and you know that, so tell the rest of them
Now I'm walking my own way
Turn me back again, again

turn me around
turn me around
turn me around
turn me around again

Now I'm walking my own way
Now I'm leading my own life
Cause I won't let it fall away this time
Leaving all of the questions far behind
Even though it will hurt us both to say

Now I'm walking my own way

Now I'm walking my own way..

Turn me around
Come on now, come on now

Turn me around
