

Everwaiting Serenade "A Dead End Artery"

Visit "A Dead End Artery" on MotoLyrics.com

So long it's been Since my reflection's not giving in
The sands of time forced their path through me
Now leaving half things behind
I choose one leading role

Hold high the sacrifice to never compromise myself again

I gave up so many dreams just to protect this one
I gave up so many chances just to protest this time
I could not be more stripped than this
Be more defenceless
A target for every attack
A blank outline in your hunting sight

I'm running wild with your barrel pointing south

I shall hold high the sacrifice to never compromise myself again

Running wild with your barrel to my mouth
But now I blaze through a sparkle
I shine through a whisper

I shine through you

So long it's been, since I Hold high my commitment, this is my commitment to life this is my commitment to you
I shine through a whisper
I shine through you

Visit Everwaiting Serenade page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.