The city lights are burning bright on that big Hollywood sign

You're probably sleeping in your east coast time
Man, what I'd give just to be there tonight

And I hear people getting high in the next room
Talking about life now we don't have a clue

I used to dream of making it out of this town
And now I'm dreaming of making it out

I'm sick of waking up alone 'cause I can't be home (I can't be home)

All this pain from missing you
It's just too strong (it's just too strong)
All I want is just to be there with you
And baby it's true I'd give it all up for you
It's the least I could do

Another night I spend drinking with myself
And counting the channels in this run down hotel

I just hide it, all the pain, so no one knows
I'm talking to myself everywhere I go
(Everywhere I go)

I'm sick of waking up alone 'cause I can't be home (I can't be home)

All this pain from missing you
It's just too strong (it's just too strong)
All I want is just to be there with you
And baby it's true I'd give it all up for you
It's the least I could do

The hardest part is I could never give you what you needed
But just so you know, a part of you will always be right here with me

Waking up alone 'cause I can't be home
All this pain from missing you
It's just too strong

All I want is just to be there with you
And baby it's true I'd give it all up for you
It's the least I could do
