You got your new pills,
Some kind of cheap thrills,
We used to bet who'd be the first one to make it out.

You've got your rat race,
I've got my goose chase,
We're running circles 'round the same thing aren't we now

Time will never wait,
I've learned the hard way,
Cause I don't recognize the face in front of me.

I am the same as I was when I was younger
Whatever happened to you (whatever happened to you)
I'll never change with the lines on my face
I'm still the person you knew
Whatever happened to you

You know you had a chance,
The world in your hands,
You could've had it all if you'd have got your shit straight

You're off the deep end,
And now your old friends,
Are sick of drowning in your sorrows, listen now

We fought the same fight,
And I stood by your side,
But I can't stick around and watch you crumble

Time will never wait,
I've learned the hard way,
Cause I don't recognize the face in front of me

I am the same as I was when I was younger
Whatever happened to you (whatever happened to you)
I'll never change with the lines on my face
I'm still the person you knew
Whatever happened to you

I am the same as I was when I was younger (younger)

I am the same as I was when I was younger
Whatever happened to you (whatever happened to you)
I'll never change with the lines on my face
I'm still the person you knew
Whatever happened to you
