Pardon me
but I i can't be near you
excuse me
but I
think you're so endearing
you will be
tongue in cheek
quit your shaking
we all know
a body is waste
run for your safety
you will pay
with your life
egg yolk
attraction
you were the reason for this unholy attraction
guarding the open door
embrace the distant light
guarding the open door
we will make better friends the awkwardness
surrounds us

we'll take the torch to our shirts you'll expose what you are we'll keep our distance we'll keep our space you'll expose what remains by your neck
by the grace of god
i can't see
without my eyes
you will stay
around
you'll hang here by your neck you'll keep the grace of god the awkward surroundings you will seek forgiveness

we all need our space
we will keep our distance to kill what remains
