"Faith in You"

I hear the trouble is
Making it impossible
For you to meet my eye
Which is worse than anything
Help me to see
What I've done
To make you so ashamed
To make you miss
This supposed expectation

Oh, I couldn't really say
If the promise is in vain
Never gave a thought
Never caused me any pain
Cause trusting you is easy
And I never had to try
As strange as it may seem now
I never wondered why
I have faith in you
I have faith in you

Would you feel that much better
If you never said you lied
Well, your actions give the answer
We're here because you tried to tell me
And what pride
And what hope
And what trust
You could never try to take
It only really takes time
To mend the things that tend to break on you

Oh, I couldn't really say
If the promise is in vain
Never gave a thought
Never caused me any pain
Cause trusting you is easy
And I never had to try
As strange as it may seem now
I never wondered why
I have faith in you
I have faith in you

If it seems like I can't be hurt
I wish that that were true
But sometimes, someone gives in the wrong direction
Leaving work for you to do
Well, I can forgive
And you're worth it to me
Besides, a little faith goes a long way
It can move mountains
And change the weather
And even set everybody free
Never gave a thought
I never doubted why
I have faith in you
I have faith in you
In you...
