Take me away from this place
My only hope is love's embrace
There is a distant kingdom
Where she lives, the one out of a million

Mountains and clouds below me
The world's inner fears will hold me
Kept under sun rays of evil
Lies a path, that will lead me to your heart

Everyone's talking
These feelings are shocking
Made up just like old fairy tales

And everything's changing
All systems are failing
What good will it do if we change?

May all your dreams become real
And may you find out how love feels
Trapped in a world that's so fierce
There's a field where there are no more tears

Â

Everyone's talking
These feelings are shocking
Made up just like old fairy tales

Â

And everything's changing
All systems are failing
What good will it do if we change?

Â

Everyone's talking
Believing they're lucky
With no one to cherish their name

And everything's changing
My memory's fading
I just want to live through the day
