

Everything But The Girl "Careless"

Visit "Careless" on MotoLyrics.com

It takes two to make a home
But only one to break it down
Restless as the ocean roar
You've finally left town

Open up the bedroom door
There's a prince without a crown

You could not care less
And that was the first sign
But now you guess
That you've been too careless this time

You left him sleepin' like a child
In the arms of someone else
And found it hard to criticize
Because you've done the same yourself

Pleasure is a pretty thing
Oh, but love, they say is wealth

You could not care less
And that was the first sign
But now you guess
That you've been too careless this time

You could not care less
And that was the first sign
But now you guess
That you've been too careless this time

You could not care less
And that was the first sign
But now you guess
That you've been too careless this time

This time, have you been
Too careless, this time
Too careless, this time
Too careless, this time
