I know youç£€ rather talk instead about the things inside your head, but everything, everything, that I overheard, tells me you just donç£~ have the words. Cause you never learned to speak the language of life, and here you are a grown man who canç£~ talk to his wife. And the children you donç£~ understand.

You think youç£>e come on pretty far, still got the job, the house and the car. But thereç£— one thing, one thing that you never get -a grip on lifeç£— sweet alphabet. Cause you never learned to speak the language of life, and here you are a grown man who canç£~ talk to his wife.

And when things get out of hand, and the kids you donç£~ understand -love is foreign land. Over words you have no command, you have no command But itç£— not that you donç£~ care- Admit it baby, and youç£—e half way there. Cause you know, you know that you feel much more than you ever have the words for.

Cause you never learned to speak the language of life, and here you are a grown man who canç£~ talk to his wife, and the children you just donç£~ understand.
