I just saw,
My first shooting star,
And you were with me,
I wished that everyone would
Know that we were meant to be

They all think that we're not alike,
But who cares, but who cares

I just witnessed,
A thought of my whole life,
Whole life with you
But no one realizes the fact,
That I have a crush on you

They all think that we are not alike,
But who cares, but who cares

I hate when people ask if I like you,
They all know I do
I'd think they get the picture,
When it's always just me and you
As long as we are a couple forever
Because you're my guy and we Should always be together

They all think that we are not alike,
But who cares, but who cares
I can't stand it when they don't Understand and it blows me away
Everyday they keep coming back to ask
The samethings as yesturday

They all think we're not alike,
But who cares, but who cares
They allt hink we're not alike,
But who cares, but who cares
