Enter the new minister
The old one disappears
Different points of view
But the same words i still hear
Now it's change of the guard
He will lend him his mask
Different point of view
But the same thing he must do
They're dining together
They argue about the weather

Different points of view
But the same things they will do
Enters the new minister
The old one disappears
Different points of view
But the same words i will hear
We don't like your
Conservative christian nationalist socialist teargas
