Goldmind

Dig up the gold in your mind

You gotta stare into the air until you go blind

In the light of dusk you stumble and you will find your gold

Mind, mind, mind

Your goldmind

Beware of the feast

That only beggars eat cause they are starving

Sweet sirens lure you in and youll start dying in your

Mind, mind, mind

Your goldmind

To all that is fair

Your empty skull will melt into despair

And what youre looking for was never there in your

Mind, mind, mind

Your cold mind
