Tell the taxi driver, "Pull up over there"
Sprint down the street and we don't pay the fare
Onto the district line, force open the door
There's loads of seats free but we catch on the floor

Last night we both died a death
Just flowed 'til no cider left
Jumped out the wrong side of bed
Now another night of wrong lies ahead

To be a kid again, Nancy and Sid again
Need medicine, cut out the middle men
Run free, only way to get rid of them
Never gonna catch us

We're on the run
And I'm about to lose it
She's like a gun
And she ain't afraid to use it

Come on, we'll catch our very last train
Light our very last flames
And we'll knock it all back
And forget our names

'Cause it's our last night
And it's one last fight
We're the last ones
The last ones standing

Go tell the waitress, we'll have 2 rum and cokes
Ask for the bill and then we'll split when she goes
Out the fire exit wearing some stranger's coat
We'll sing it out 'til we're sore in the throat

This ain't child's play like pass the parcel
Or build a castle, just a couple of rascals
Who go harder, live faster
Fight 'til the end like Jason's Argonauts

Uh, 'cause life's a carnival
There's no reason, motives marginal

Don't care if we're cold and starving
We'll still be laughing when

We're on the run
And I'm about to lose it
She's like a gun
And she ain't afraid to use it

Come on, we'll catch our very last train
Light our very last flames
And we'll knock it all back
And forget our names

'Cause it's our last night
And it's one last fight
We're the last ones

Come on, we'll catch our very last train

'Cause it's our last night
We're the last ones

We're on the run, let's go

Come on, we'll catch our very last train

'Cause it's our last night

Come on, we'll catch our very last train
And forget our names

'Cause it's our last night
We're the last ones
