Verse 1

Just don't turn your back on me right now
There's something wrong today
Just close your eyes
And tell me how you feel

Pre-chorus

I want to see you tomorrow
Just to hear your voice one more day
And even if you're not with us
I will promise you I'll never forget you

Chorus

These Memories never die they perish in me
Every emotion I have to hide I only ask you to Understand that I've been through this in life before
If she was here I will tell her what I felt
Every moment that we spent together I just won't forget
I'm coming home with you...

Verse2

This last words don't pretend to be
An excuse to live, breathe, is just another desperate measure
(Tell me how far we will stay)

Pre-chorus

I want to see you tomorrow
Just to hear your voice one more day
And even if you're not with us
I will promise you I'll never forget you

Chorus

These Memories never die they perish in me
Every emotion I have to hide I only ask you to Understand that Iâve been through this in life before

If she was here I will tell her what I felt
Every moment that we spent together I just won't forget
I'm coming home with you...

Bridge

And no one understand this situation
No one dream the way I do
And no one understand this situation
No one see the world I know

Just tell me where you are I will walk until I find you
Everyday I see the sky I go blind
Just tell me where you are I will walk until I find you
... I'll promise... I'm coming home with you.
