Fallen angel, dreamer angel you've lost your wings you're trying to live while your faith is vanished in the dust A cry from nowhere so empty, so cold a strong illusion that's pulling your thoughts in a false world.

Like a wish at the dawn of loneliness
in your haunted eyes visions are your reality
and dreams are your endless hell.

Behind the darkness
there are secrets of forbidden worlds forgotten sunsets in a circle of your lost dreams.
The stars are dying discoloring the sky burying angel your shouldering fire is curving inside your eyes.

[Chorus:]
Passing shapes of dark and light frustrating your mind a blemished body that's in defiance of the guilt.
Passing shapes of dark and light
frustrating your mind a blemished body

Faltering angel you're only fantasizing a shiny tomorrow in which no one believes.

Like a wish at the dawn of loneliness
in your haunted eyes visions are your reality
and dreams are your endless hell.

[Chorus]
