Night breath lead me beyond this dream through the stars, through the clouds.
Where my sins are hiding in the icy wave of fear there's a gray dimension of emptiness where my tears are betrayed

Sacred soul
you're dying in a strange way falling into void.
A denying sleep that's poisoned my entire life in a black colored scenery.

I can feel the time around me like the veils of a misty sea Awakening my fate passing to unreal there's a brand new age through the years.

[Chorus:]
The night seems so cold and I can feel the tears in my eyes like a heavy rain stealing my ability to search for more as a blank statue I accept my destiny

As the daylight comes the unborn sun is knocking on my dream to arise my senses but I'm falling deeper into my voracious sleeps

Awakening my fate passing to unreal
there's a brand new age through the years.
A denying sleep that's poisoned my entire life
in a black colored scenery.

[Chorus]
