Life made to imitate art
Disfigured features re-sected upon being torn apart
My cubist rhinoplasty has left you defaced Any semblance of dignity erased and replaced
The face of death staring at you is only your own
Distorted and twisted to form
The medium of meat, tendon, sinew and bone
Distorted and twisted to form
Eye-sockets rerouted, now to re-wire your shattered jaw Aesthetic mutilation leaves facial tissue red raw Gouged, cleft and hacked, now you're drastically deformed
Through your grisly countenance, as an objet d'art you are reborn
The face of death staring at you is only your own
Distorted and twisted to form
The medium of meat, tendon, sinew and bone
Distorted and twisted to form Sightless eyes - gaze vacantly at the monstrous face in the reflection Chiaroscuro realized - Obscure art incarnated through unnatural selection

[Lead - Matt]

Disintegrating death masque - leering features rearranged disgustingly
Askew
The work of a hack - your visage gleams with the moist sheen of sanguine
And sinew

[Lead - Wes]

The face of death staring at you is only your own
Distorted and twisted to form
The medium of meat, tendon, sinew and bone
Distorted and twisted to form
