Hey
Hey

I know what it feels like it burns from the inside
I know what that hurts like, 'cause I've been wrong a thousand times
My bones are all cracked, a splinter deep in my back
I'm still the same but we have changed
And now I have to live with my mistakes, will I ever learn?

I'm battered and bruised, scratched on the inside
I'm losing myself, oh, I'm so sick of the lies
Dead ring in my ears the hole underneath
You're deep in my skin, you're the splinter in me, hey

You'll never know how hard I try to keep my head right
I miss all the bright lights, shinning down like the sun burns my skin
Ten silver sets me free like the ones before me
I'm still the same but we have changed
And now I have to live with my mistakes, will I ever
learn?

I'm battered and bruised, scratched on the inside
I'm losing myself, oh, I'm so sick of the lies
Dead ring in my ears the hole underneath
You're deep in my skin, you're the splinter in me

I'm battered and bruised, scratched on the inside
I'm losing myself, oh, I'm so sick of the lies
Dead ring in my ears the hole underneath
You're deep in my skin you're the splinter in me

The splinter in me
The splinter in me
You're the splinter in me
