least that I could do in memory of you
you taught me how to fly not forgotten now turn the ship around fly into the storm scatter light all over the gloom

my father had his pride now I fly alone

his ship it never lies so it's always by my side lighten up today deep inside the storm

keep flying leaving tracks in the ether can't let that monster beat me don't think so but they call it invincible so I soar though I'm deep inside the storm it won't defeat me shake me free

look out here comes trouble maybe I'm just pushing through a dream but it looks real to me now

but all these things
feel quite real to me

what else could I do?
a memory of you there's writing in the sky of the monsters in the deep spin the wheel around breaking through the storm

I'm falling tumbling back to earth

time to soar though I'm trapped inside a storm it won't defeat me

nothing comes so easy as a dream but it seems real to me now though I'm deep inside a storm it won't defeat me floating free

but strange how things
