Disregard my golden footsteps,
I walk alone.
In this shelter, all knowledge is mine.
I put you in your birdcage, chained your neck.
You follow my will, or be wrong.

See what I've done, I gather the fame.
You never thought that I would win in this game.
I'm standing high. you're screaming my name.
Got to understand it will never be the same.

I break the path you so long tried to build.
In the sky I roam. Watch me slip away.

A new time draws near, and I find the silver road
Between two worlds.

See what I've done, I gather the fame.
You never thought that I would win in this game.
I'm standing high. you're screaming my name.
Got to understand that well never be the same.
