Bring back the good times, forget these bad times, keep moving
I'm running situations through.
You can't fall for me
And I can't fall for you
And maybe this could be the last thing we ever do (x2)

Looks like the right one could have been the wrong one, don't look back
The memories should carry me through.

You can't fall for me
And I can't fall for you
And maybe this should be the last thing we ever do

They used to make no sense to me
All the things you said to me
But now they're making sense to me

You can't fall for me
And I can't fall for you
And maybe this should be the last thing we ever do

Bring back the good times, forget these bad times.
