The only thing that's left for you to hate now is yourself
Each and every day and every way all by yourself
All i really wanted was a lover who could love
And all i really needed was a message from above
I while away the hours 15 showers on my skin
I'm drying off too early, saying hey girl, how've you been?
Weighing up up the problems of the days along the way
I'd share a little piece of my mind with you today

Tried another track but the best is right in front of me
Got you on your back but the sight is much too much for me
Far away
Far away
You know that i couldn't stay...

Find me something to prove, something to do
Don't say 'yes' if i say 'no'
You've got to let it go

Find me something to prove, something to do
Don't say 'yes', no don't you say it...

You always need an answer but you never wonder
'why?'
The feelings like addiction, could you give up if you try?
Find another mountain is the only thing to do
I'll climb another face but i still can't get to you

Tried another track but the best is right in front of me
Got you on your back but the sight is much too much
for me
Far away
Far away
You know that i couldn't stay...

Find me something to prove, something to do
Don't say 'yes' if i say 'no'
You've got to let it go

Find me something to prove, something to do
Don't say 'yes', no don't you say it...
