Keeping up appearances for you, missing all the shit
you do,
Missing all the shit you say, all the things we threw away
And every time you have a dream, hoping it's a dream of me,
'cause every night in my mind, cars are crashing all the time

Locking up the windows and the doors, I'm alone to think some more,
I can't wait until the day that the distance falls away
And still the stupid all say know, but the stupid just don't know
Yes I'll see them all in hell where we're burning

I'll see you in the next life, see you round the next time

Don't you think it feels right?
'Cause all we've got is this time, and all I've got is not mine
And all I've got is.

So I'll do it right
So 'ill do it.

Locking up the windows and the doors
I'm alone to think of you some more.
Locking up the windows and the doors
I'm alone to think of you some.to think of you some more

I'll see you in the next life, see you round the next time
Don't you think it feels right?
'Cause all we've got is this time, and all I've got is not
mine
And all I've got is.(x2)
