"Metal Command"

your gathered here tonight to heed our metal. cry obeying all. our wills all others you defy a wall of sonic sound with amps turned up to ten our legions are advancing to battle once again

fists are in the air. banging everywhere thrashing to the sound faces melting down it s time to fight for metal tonight bangers take your stand and obey our metal command

we go from town to town and leave a trail of death and if you don't surrender you'll breathe you final breath there will be no survivors no prisoners of war

join our ranks or perish we'll slice you to the core fists are in the air thrashing everywhere banging to the sound, faces melting down

our legions show no mercy the final hour nears sonic blast deafening it's ripping through your ears there is no retribution for those who do not dare there's only execution your dead without a prayer
