I had love in a backyard
I went out one day and took it apart
Like my dad used to do on a sunny afternoon
Break something old to build something new

And I woke up at the start of the day
To 24 hours that were mine to fake
And you can break it for so long
When you're a boy on the run
Never doing nothing wrong

I had love in a backyard
I went out one day and took it apart
Like my dad used to do on a sunny afternoon
Break something old to build something new

And I woke up at the start of the day
To 24 hours that were mine to break
And you can fake it for so long
When you're a boy on the run
Not doing nothing wrong

Are you awake? Are you alive?
Are you awake? Are you alive?
You looked dead to me when I looked in your eyes
You looked dead to me when I looked in your eyes

Are you awake? Are you alive?
Are you awake? Are you alive?
You looked dead to me when I looked in your eyes

Are you awake?
