Give me a chance to touch, to hold your love
Can't understand you've been so cold so long

Why don't you feel it like I do?
Why don't you want me like I do?
I know, you know

You're in my dreams, I need you so
How could you see me for so long
And keep pretending all along?
I know, you know
That I will never do you wrong

I know you know love comes and goes
When you are near the one you love
I know you know, it's hard to go
When all the feelings start to show

There only words I speak into darkness
Still, I wonder what, what would be the chances

Why don't you feel it like I do?
Why don't you want me like I do?
I know, you know

You're in my dreams, I need you so
How could you see me for so long
And keep pretending all along?
I know, you know
That I will never do you wrong

I know you know love comes and goes
When you are near the one you love
I know you know, it's hard to go
When all the feelings start to show

Don't you know that there's a sign
And it comes only one time?
Isn't love sometimes ignored?
'Cause it's happened before
In the end, you'll leave it all behind

I know you know love comes and goes
When you are near the one you love
I know you know, it's hard to go
When all the feelings start to show

I know you know love comes and goes
When you are near the one you love
I know you know, it's hard to go
When all the feelings start to show

I know you know love comes and goes
When you are near the one you love
I know you know, it's hard to go
When all the feelings start to show

I know you know love comes and goes
When you are near the one you love
I know you know, it's hard to go
